Our Beliefs ...

Values:

We are guided by four core values. We pledge to adhere to these values, and ask everyone that we work with to do the same.

- Respect everyone
- Provide honest and open communication
- Always do what is right
- Provide timely and consistent follow-up

Mission:

Our mission is to help all members of the workforce attain a better quality of life.

Vision:

Our vision is to become the leading global provider of human capital solutions.

Direct Staffing ...

As specialists in contingency staffing, we provide a means for clients to hire the highest-quality professionals seeking the challenges and rewards of becoming full-time employees. We charge a fee only after a successful hire.

Our extensive industry and occupational specialty expertise enables us to provide permanent executive, middle management and staff-level solutions at a level above and beyond that which most clients and candidates expect.

Interim Staffing ...

We provide organizations of all sizes with highly specialized, highly skilled senior-level consultants and professional temporaries on a project and interim basis, helping them complete challenging projects on time and more cost-effectively.

Senior-level Consultants: We work hard to carefully match the expertise of each senior-level consultant with the skill-specific knowledge required of each particular project. That way, we can be sure you're matched with a professional who possesses the experience and ability to help your senior management meet critical business challenges – and deliver the results you need.

Professional Temps: We distinguish between senior-level consultants and professional temporaries based upon the supplemental nature of temporary services in comparison with the highly skilled, highly specialized services of our senior-level consultants.

We Handle Everything: We put the employee on our payroll and handle all the human resources and benefits administration issues, payroll and tax processing, employer taxes, worker's compensation and insurance protection. You pay only for the hours you approve. It's easy!

As a veteran journalist and freelance writer for various corporations and industries, I understand the pressures that come with working in the public relations, marketing, media, and creative professions. My background includes work in public affairs for the Department of Defense as a journalist, editor and speechwriter, as well as writing news and feature articles for private sector magazines, newspapers, and online publications. I've even taught high school journalism courses, and invested time in my career as a credentialed high school guidance counselor and life skills instructor.

I welcome the opportunity to assist you in identifying and recruiting the best and the brightest professionals to fill your vacancies in public relations, marketing, media, graphic design, copywriting, web design, social media, and information technology. Direct hire or temporary placements.

I also represent top candidates from other professions, so if you have a hard-to-fill vacancy, I can help. I work with a team of professional StaffingForce Associates nationwide who work together to meet the needs of our clientele in a timely manner. We have teams working together to fill vacancies in various professions including: Accounting & Finance, Engineering & Design, Healthcare, Human Resources, Information Technology, Legal, Retail & Hospitality, and Marketing & Creative. In fact, let us show you how this is done. By the way, if the timing is right for you, we can even help YOU strategize your next career move!

And if you're looking for a freelance corporate speechwriter, or other freelance editorial service to help unload the deadline pressures of your marketing and public relations divisions, I can assist you through ScribeWorks – Professional Editorial Services.
